WELCOME TO THE FAMILY

Welcome to the family,
We're glad that you have come to share
Your life with us, as we grow in love,
And may we always be to you what God would have us be
A family always there,
To be strong and to lean on.

May we learn to love each other
More with each new day,
May words of love be on our lips
In everything we say.
May the Spirit melt our hearts,
And teach us how to pray,
That we might be a true family.

As most of the students were arriving on campus and moving into their dorm rooms and apartments, the cast and crew of over twenty people were completing their first week of rehearsal for the Homecoming play, You Can't Take It With You, by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman.

The play takes place in the mid nineteen thirties in the home of Grandpa Vanderhof and his zany family who enjoy life because they do what they most want to do.

Director Gary Heisserer said the play is a celebration of American ideals from a more innocent and simplistic time, before America had lost a couple of wars. The family reflects a good-natured wisdom coming from people living honestly, and even the bad guy isn't bad, just stiff.

The cast and crew include Shandra Newcom, Angela Gould, Joy Craven, J.J. Musgrove, Stephen Miller, Brian White, Richard (Tex) Jackel, Kelly Phipps, Stacey Mengel, James Galbraith, Michael Lewis, Tqim (silent q)Nutt, Tracy Salter, Douglas Graves, Diana Herroon, Michael Bailey, Susanne Barber, Amy Jo Villenueve, Shelley Judd, Dennie Wood, Chris Wright, Shannon Pearce, Celia Schall, Leslie McGuire and Robert O'Leary.

Tickets go on sale in the MSC office starting September 21.

A committee made up on 15 students is monitoring your pulse: the spiritual pulse of the campus. Our monitor reads success and excitement from the 200 student attendance at the first campus-wide campfire and over 100 people at the cross-country Wednesday night service. CSD meets once a week to help identify needs on campus that can be met by Campus Ministries, and finds campus groups to participate in Wednesday night services. Next week at 7:00pm the Pastoral Care Coordinators Rich Speigel, Jon Purcell, and Joy Craven are heading up the service. If you are a willing member of a campus or off-campus grouping, such as the "alternative off-campus fellowship group on the corner" then come find us or we'll find you. Ctroy T & Julie

Music department announces Anthony-Hyde winners

Nine students receive awards for talent

By Rebekah Elkins
News Editor

Recently, the winners of the Anthony-Hyde Scholarship awards for the 1989 academic year were announced. Recipients included Scott Elkins, $1,000 awarded for piano; Angela Gould, $800 for vocals; Dyan Carroll, $600 for piano; Louise Yuda, $600 for marimba; Carole Leighty, $350 for vocals; Gena Coffman, $250 for bassoon; Mark Williams, $250 for piano; Stacie Stickney, $150 for vocals; and Madora Garn, $100 for oboe.

Applicants were required to submit a letter of application stating why they felt they should be eligible for the scholarships, a declared music or music education major status, a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 and above, and an audition consisting of selections no longer than five minutes each in length.

For instrumentalists, this means that the piece they chose must demonstrate their technical and musical abilities in sustained melodic lines indicating quality of tone, phrasing, intonation, and brisk tempo which indicates technical fluency and articulation.

The vocalists are required to present two solo songs of contrasting natures. They must demonstrate good diction, flexibility, accurate pitch, pleasing tonal quality, some knowledge of breath control and a concept of phrasing.

The students were then rated on a scale from one to ten for both technique and expression, and on a scale of one to five for stage presence. Dr. Oliver Houston, Division Chairperson of the Fine Arts Department and Professor of Music, explained that judges for this annual event consist of four music faculty members and two other area college personnel. The judges for this year's contest included Director of Bands John Wojcik, Dr. Richard Clothier, Division Chairperson Dr. Oliver Houston, Dr. Tom Hart, Caroline Mann and Lois Yates.

> "Once again Graceland recognizes the underlying talent provided by its music department and takes a positive step forward by rewarding those abilities."

Funding for the Anthony-Hyde Scholarship was begun in the 1930's and was named after Joseph H. Anthony and his wife, Mabel Carlile Hyde. Both were instructors here at Graceland College and were considered mainstays of the music department.

In 1983, only three scholarships were given. Since that time the number of recipients and amount of the fund has grown progressively. The amount now stands at $4,200 and freshman are now also allowed to audition, which constitutes a change from earlier application guidelines.

Once again, Graceland College recognizes the underlying talent provided by its music department and takes a positive step forward by rewarding those abilities.

The Lugers philosophize

Our thanks go out to the concerned citizens who made this week's Luge report possible. Your contributions have enabled us to complete an extensive two-week study into the bend in Graybill Hall. As a result, we offer the following list of possible reasons for the bend.

*Graceland received a discount on the crooked bricks.

*The builders wanted to avoid the alleged site of Elvis' grave, ten paces southwest of Brett Lord's window.

*The original plans called for a structure similar to the Pentagon, but then a Luge member said, "Wait a minute, we don't have that many students."

*They thought it would look neat.

*The bend allows for users of the window seat in Annex bathrooms to have a more scenic view.

*They just didn't know what the hell they were doing (we realize you can use "that word" on prime-time telvision, but this is the Tower).

*The alumni who put up the money for its construction said to do it.

*We're in I.O.W.A.

That's exactly what we're talking about! Thank you for your continued support.

Jill Williams, a junior from Boulder, Colorado, is running for the office of Student Academic Council (SAC) President. Jill has served as Solah's SAC representative for the past two years. In addition, she is this year's SAC publicity chairperson, serving as a liaison between SAC and other committees as well as being responsible for signs and posters. She has also been active in sports at Graceland, playing volleyball and softball.

"In SAC I see a great deal of unused potential. I feel that SAC could become more important to both the student body and the Graceland administration."

This year Jill serves on the Teacher Education Committee and believes that her experience on the committee has helped her become more aware of how decisions are made in academic programs. Jill feels that she is more comfortable with her own academic program because she has had the opportunity to share in the decision making process, and feels that every student would benifit from this type of knowledge. "...I see SAC as a perfect avenue for this kind of information."

"I would like to make SAC true academic link between Graceland and the student body. This would mean eliciting more information from the Graceland faculty and administration and distributing that information to the student body through the SAC representatives. SAC would also become a possible avenue for gathering more feedback from the student body. I believe that if we are an informed student body the administration would pay more attention to our opinions."

"I think there is also a tendency for the Graceland faculty to feel that students make unqualified generalizations and hasty judgements about what is being done or not done for them. I think a better informed community will benifit both sides of the spectrum."

In addition to serving as a link between the administration and the student body, Jill would also like SAC to serve as a link between Graceland's new Academic Advising Center and the student body. "SAC can help with Advising Center programs." Jill believes SAC can help in tasks ranging from the dispensing of information to providing peer advisors who would offer scheduling advice.

"I feel that there's a lot of unused potential in SAC....SAC needs to be much more involved in the community."

How do you feel about Spring Break being so late?

Rap/soul wins out every time!

To the editor:

I am writing in resopnse to Scott Keairnes' letter in the last issue of the Tower. In his letter, Scott referred to Choices as "a depressing dive and an embarrassment to people with taste."

The Graceland Alumni Board currently has a Choices improvement committee. Thanks to the Alumni Board, Choices has improved drastically in the past few years. They have added the new DJ booth, new tables and bar stools, new walls, and the "pool room." While Choices cannot be improved overnight, the students should realize and appreciate the improvements that are being made.

In reference to Choices music, sit back and watch to see the amount of people on the dance floor while rap/soul music is being played as compared to when any other type of music is played. Rap/soul wins out every time!!!

P.S. Hi Cindy!

Softball snags season opener

By Dan Brigham
Sports Co-Editor

The Graceland women's softball team ushered in the spring season by sweeping a doubleheader from Trenton College in Trenton, MO last Saturday, March 17.

The 1990 squad is rich with experience, boasting a number of returning players. Furthermore, Head Coach Bill Dudek singled out Julie Burrell, Sheila Weiss, and Jodi Glynn as promising freshmen capable of making a positive impact at the varsity level.

Rachel Eckert and Darcia Willard, two of the pitchers responsible for last season's 15-11 record, continued to perform as neither one allowed a single base-on-balls en route their victories.

Eckert, who pitched a complete game, recorded the team's first win of the season in a 16-1 slaughtering. Offensive standouts for game one were Julie Crowell (3 for 3, 2 RBI), Barb Koehler (2 for 3), and Collette Wilbur (1 for 3).

Willard recorded her win by pitching for five innings, only to be replaced by Sheila Weiss. The two combined posted a shutout in a close 2-0 game in which Weiss nailed a triple, driving in the only two runs of the game.

"It was our first time playing outdoors, and the women both pitched and hit well for this early in the season," said Dudek. "I feel we have a pretty solid unit this spring. The players get along great and they play well together."

Although Dudek felt the team was improved over last year's squad, he noted that the level of competition on the 1990 schedule is high. The women's next game will be tomorrow, Saturday March 24 against Baker University in Baldwin, KS.
